

ARPANA MORJARIA

As a daughter of an Indian Naval Admiral, she spent her childhood traversing the length and breadth of India. Arpana finished her schooling at St Josephs High School in Mumbai and completed her science degree from the University of Bhopal.

Having won the Miss India title in 1982, she pursued a career in fashion, first modeling on ramp and in print, then directing and choreographing fashion shows and finally anchoring on Indian television popular programs like Khoobsoorat and Peoples Club.

Television brought Arpana offers for TV serials and sitcoms. She acted in award winning serials on Indian Television such as Kash ma Kash, Trishna and Yehi hai Zindagi and Hindustani.

Arpana is currently living in Geneva, married with two children and is excited to be contributing to children's education and development by being part of Treasure.
